

Statement on price and reservation enquiries

Dear Customer,

You are interested in one of the trips advertised on our web site, which is offered by more tour operators. Thank you for that!

Only after careful checking of availability and price comparison among tour operators, I, as a travel agent, will work out the best deal or I will make a list of individual services and mail it to you. This is absolutely free of charge. Together with your offer you will receive all necessary details such as dates, probable flying times, the name of your operator and the final price included possible charges or taxes. Additional costs will not be calculated.

All tour operators dispose of statutory insolvency insurance (customer money protection). With your booking you will also receive the confirmation securing certificate, without it you should not carry out any payment. This price and reservation enquiry is not the question of your obligatory booking. It is only a travel enquiry, which helps us to make you an offer according to your data. This is also free of charge. You will receive only the final price from us.
